HOWZIT from AFRICA

Hope y'all had a good start to the New Year. In South Africa it started with a Heat wave quite uncommon in our relatively mild climate. Hence the beer consumption went up and the payload down. Bookings for the year are reasonable especially from Europe but our mates in the USA are letting us down a bit. Come on guys don't let little Saddam stop you from having a good time.

FLYING NEWS

AFRICAN SUNRISE 2003

Our January trip wen down without a hitch. The game viewing at the Elephant lodge was superb and now everybody knows that lions mate 5 times an hour every hour and are not shy to demonstrate their skills in front of or chalet. Some of the ladies were quite awed by the stamina displayed

Yawn... too much sex gets boring

The whale watching at Hermanus was a thrill
It is always funny when seasoned aviators (the writer included) have to return to shore prematurely because little Ski boats on Oceans cause them go green around their gills. At least we were spared the indignity of feeding fish.
It is always a highlight to meet up with the Boer farmers in the Little Karoo which make a welcome ceremony of every visit and introduce our guests to real South African Farm life.
Besides the Charlie Bravos that gave us a bit of a hard time on the leg from Kimberley to Jo-burg, flying turned out to be a sunshine affair.
Thanks again to the weather gods and to Mark our expert Bushpilot/ guide/ general factotum who pulled off another safe and enjoyable trip.

TRAINING

CONGRATULATIONS !!!
